

UNIVERSITY of HOUSTON

COLLEGE of LIBERAL ARTS & SOCIAL SCIENCES
Communication Sciences & Disorders

OUR PROGRAMS

AMERICAN SIGN LANGUAGE

Sharon Hill, MBA

GRADUATE (COMD)

Michelle Ivey, Ph.D.

PH.D (COMD)

Ferenc Bunta, Ph.D.

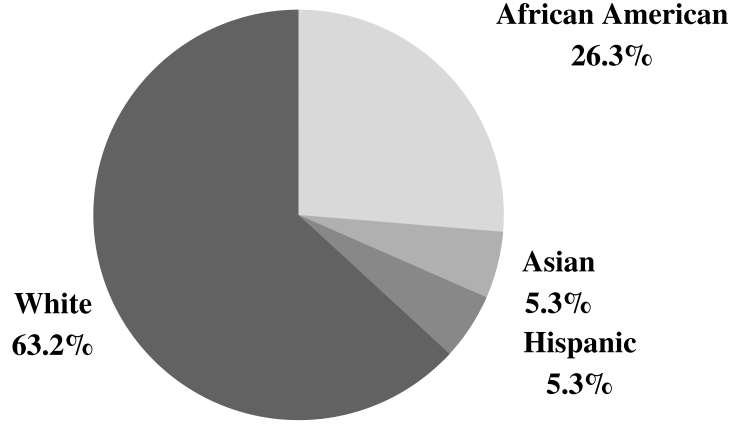

POST BACCALAUREATE LEVELING

Laura Cizek, Ed.D.

UNDERGRADUATE (COMD)

Martha Dunkelberger, Ph.D.

FACULTY DEMOGRAPHIC

77% FEMALE | 23% MALE

RECENT NEWS

IMPROVED GRADUATE PROGRAM RANKING

The U.S. News and World Report conducts a survey every four years ranking 261 master's programs that offer degrees in speech-language pathology. We are excited to share that this year, our master's program moved to the 55th spot (previously ranked 69th), officially earning a place in the top 25%. Full article here.

"DIVERSITY WITHOUT DOLLARS"

Monique Mills, Ph.D., an associate professor, was featured here in the September issue of The Chronicle of Higher Education along with UH's Associate Provost Erika Henderson and two other UH faculty members. She discusses the phone call that initiated her move to the University of Houston.

USLHC TELETHERAPY SUCCESS

Due to the coronavirus, the University Speech-Language-Hearing Clinic closed down in March. Needing to ensure that graduate students still had opportunities to earn clinical hours and that our clients received services, Clinic Director Jane Tragesser and her Clinical Educators shifted the entire clinic to telehealth. Click here to read about it's success.

INAUGURAL PH.D. COHORT

Click here to read their individual profiles and to learn more about our newest program.

FOLLOW US @UHCMD!